Global History 10

Mr. Swieciki

Due: September 9th, 2015

Rising 10th Grade
Summer Assignment

This assignment will be graded and reflected in your first marking period grade. This means you must do it.

Task #1: Find yourself a copy of Arthur C. Clarke's novel 2001: A Space Odyssey. Read it.

Task #2: While reading, complete the following graphic organizer based on the following motifs. Motifs are recurring ideas in the text: in other words, you will begin to notice that certain ideas are consistently repeated. For example, in the novels Lord of the Flies and Of Mice and Men, a motif is friendship.

On the chart, the motifs of 2001: A Space Odyssey are generously listed for you. Please find textual evidence to support the motifs AND explain what the textual evidence says about the motif. Remember to include page numbers! Please see the exemplar from Of Mice and Men below for reference.

You may print out this chart and write the evidence into the chart, or download this document and type directly on it. Happy reading!

Motif	Textual Evidence [Direct quotes from the book]	Interpretation [What does the textual evidence say about the motif?]
FRIENDSHIP How do our relationships with others define us?	" 'I was only foolin', George. I don't want no ketchup. I wouldn't eat no ketchup if it was right here beside me.' 'If it was here, you could have some.' 'But I wouldn't eat none, George. I'd leave it all for you. You could cover your beans with it and I wouldn't touch none of it.' " (Steinbeck 93-95)	True friendship is about generosity--giving with the expectation of receiving nothing in return.
